

The Anthropological Society of Western Australia presents...

Power in the Process: Leveraging Environmental Legislation and Relationships to Protect People and Country

Dr Anna Fagan and Kado Muir look beyond a site-focused compliance model toward the use of environmental legislation for heritage protection, strengthening engagement and agreement-making.

This event will be of interest to native title and heritage practitioners, Aboriginal land-holding groups, those seeking to develop projects on Country, and government regulators and policymakers.

Wednesday 18 February 10am – 12.30pm

Level 4, State Library of Western Australia
